The Whole Package

GROWING YOUR WEALTH AND MAKING IT WORK FOR YOU

The Whole Package is the most robust financial service package we offer. It includes ongoing financial planning in combination with management of your investment assets through New Shore Financial.

If you do not have the time, interest or knowledge to give your growing wealth the attention is needs, then this service is for you.

Initially, we take a deep dive into all areas of your financial life, breaking them down into digestible meetings and actionable follow up. Major topic areas include, but are not limited to, goal setting, cash flow analysis, savings strategies, tax planning opportunities, risk analysis and wealth protection. All of this, taken together, will guide us in determining the appropriate asset allocation and location for your investments.

You will have ongoing monitoring and oversight of your financial life.

We are available to you whenever the need arises, because we know questions arise on your timetable, not ours. We will connect with you virtually, over the phone or live in our office.

Feng Shui Your Finances

ACHIEVING FINANCIAL ZEN

If you are simply in need of someone to look at everything you have and pull it all together in a way that makes sense, then the Feng Shui Your Finances package is for you.

Like in Feng Shui, we will pull together various aspects of your financial picture to see how they fit together, with concrete recommendations on what could be adjusted or changed to make your finances flow more smoothly and synergistically.

This is a one-time, short-term engagement designed to give you a comprehensive view of how your financial pieces fit together. We will meet to present your financial plan and you will receive a copy of the financial plan and all recommendations.

Think of this as a jump start to managing your financial life with confidence.

Similar to the Five Elements of Feng Shui, we will review Five Financial Elements:

1. Cash Flow and Net Worth
2. Savings Strategies
3. Road to Retirement
4. Protecting Yourself and Your Money
5. A topic or question of your choosing that will help you achieve peace and clarity
   Topics may include things like budgeting, college planning, investment review, home sale or purchase, tax issues etc.

The fee for this service is $4,500*.

Based on the level of complexity with respect to your self-chosen topic or question, this fee may be adjusted upward. I will inform you if this applies to your situation.
